

Conference Overview

Purpose

The purpose of the event is to consider issues affecting people's experience of end of life care in the community setting within the Western Health and Social Care Trust. It aims to highlight the challenges, consider the current systems and processes, and map patient pathways to identify areas of good practice as well as failings and gaps. The event will demonstrate and showcase that by listening to our community, working in a coordinated, integrated, and co-productive way, we can respond and improve patient and carers experience towards the end of life through the development of quality initiatives that make a difference.

Target Audience

People who use our services, those important to them and those services that directly deliver and influence care towards end of life.

Format

Limited face to face places at the event and remote access to the event via zoom or Teams.

At the event we will hear the first-hand experiences of a daughter in the lead up to her father's death at home, and what influenced this experience, and lessons learned.

We will then consider the learning in a 'you said, we did' format from a range of speakers to showcase the quality initiatives currently undertaken and in those in development.

The event will raise awareness of services available to support end of life care in our community.

It will provide opportunity to feedback and build on future developments that will influence and support better end of life care.
